Priya Shah
Director of Planning
Fernway Wealth

Dear Priya Shah,

Fernway's posting asks for a certified planner who can run an efficient office for affluent families. That is the work I have done for the last three years at Northwind Advisors, where the first-meeting workflow I built fits a new client's first meeting into an hour, with no files lost.

Two parts of that work fit what your team is taking on. First, I keep every client profile current: our staff file each one within a week. Second, I find where time goes: an office efficiency review showed a fifth of staff time going to filing, and one shared workflow gave it back.

I would welcome half an hour to walk through the workflow, and what I would offer Fernway's affluent clients first.

Best regards,

Jordan Avery
